Egg Harbor
 DOOR COUNTY, WI

COME EXPERIENCE & RELAX!

A leisurely stroll along the village's downtown streets enchants the eye with galleries, shops and restaurants housed tenderly in restored historic buildings. Egg Harbor has a coastal charm, complete with a new marina completed in 2010.

The galleries on the main drag, as well as the back roads are worth a stop. Talk with the people who actually create things - and convey their love for nature and people through their special vision and artistry. Explore a beautiful sculpture garden, egg museum, as well as quaint galleries housed in barns.

From Broadway-caliber plays at Peninsula Players to heartwarming musical comedies at American Folklore Theatre, performing arts come to life for the summer months. Egg Harbor is a music haven. Throughout the summer there are Thursday night free concerts in Harbor View Park, as well as Sunday night free concerts at the Peg Egan Performing Arts Center. Both are outdoor venues that take advantage of the incredible natural beauty and water view. And don't forget to check out some of the local treasures, like Birch Creek Music Performance Center - who has a regular schedule of concerts, as well as providing a number of free family concerts. The energy and music is fantastic.

Consider the haunted pub crawl, wineries, cherry orchards, apple orchards, farm markets, spa, yoga center, natural food store and festivals - all in a village with less than 300 full-time residents. There's plenty to love about this small town. Egg Harbor is a year-round destination you don't want to miss. Egg Harbor ... the incredible.
